

AERONAUTS OF AMERICA II. SAFEHawley and Post Landed in the Wilds of Canada.

MADE NEW WORLD'S RECORD

New Yorkers Traveled Approximately Thirteen Hundred and Fifty Miles and Came to Earth in Chicoutimi County, Quebec—Search for the Missing Men Now Ended—Big Reward Had Been Offered to Any One Finding Them.

New York, Oct. 27.—Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, the aeronauts of the balloon America II. for whom search had been prosecuted in the Canadian wilds, are safe, and have established a new world's record for sustained flight. They traveled approximately 1,350 miles, and came to earth in Chicoutimi county, Quebec, on Wednesday last.

Two messages from Hawley and Post were received in New York. One was to William Hawley, brother of the aeronaut; the other to Samuel F. Perkins, pilot of the balloon Dusseldorf II., which had been considered the winner. The message to Mr. Hawley read:

"Landed in wilderness week ago fifty miles north of Chicoutimi. Both well. —Alan."

The Perkins message ran:

"Landed Paribonka river, north Lake Chigouana 19th. All well; returning —Hawley, Post."

With receipt of the news there ended a search which had come to be regarded by many as almost hopeless, and in which the governments of this country and Canada were indirectly participating.

Clifford B. Harmon, the wealthy amateur aeronaut and aviator of New York, had offered $1,000 to any one finding Hawley and Post dead or alive, and this sum had been increased by a subscription to more than $7,000.

At the international aviation meet at Belmont Park nearly $2,000 was subscribed among the aviators, headed by $500 by Glenn H. Curtiss.

Young Perkins, who accompanied Lieutenant Hans Griesche in the Dusseldorf, conceded immediately he received the telegram from Hawley and Post that he and the German had lost first place to the New Yorkers.

Congratulates His Rivals.

Perkins had estimated the distance traveled by the Dusseldorf at 1,240 miles. He was overjoyed at hearing from his long lost rivals and quickly dispatched to St. Ambrose with instructions to forward this message of congratulations to Hawley and Post:

"Indications are that you have broken the world's record for sustained flight in a balloon. Please accept my sincerest congratulations on your success. You are the only ones I would be glad to see win outside myself. I know from my own experiences what you must have risked to make such a trip."

William Hawley shouted with elation when he heard of his brother's success and safety. For the past week he had been under a constant strain and had been in hourly communication with points in Canada from which he hoped to receive news of the landing.

As the outlook grew less hopeful day by day his anxiety became greater, but through it all he did not lose faith in his brother's ability to come through alive. He had sent J. A. Pope and Edmund Stratton to Ottawa to carry on the search, but he has since notified them of the happy ending.

The America II. was last reported passing over Maple City, Mich., Oct. 18. Sky gazers were able to read the name on the balloon, but thereafter all trace of her was lost. Various prophecies of the outcome were made, but the main contention was that the aeronauts had landed in an inaccessible region early last week—as in fact they did—and were unable to make their way to civilization. Those who took the gloomier view were inclined to think, as the days passed, that the men had perished from cold and hunger. The outlook was made darker by the suggestion of drowning, a fate thought not unlikely by the finding of a balloon basket on the shores of Lake Superior near Port Arthur, Ont., Wednesday.

MORE THAN HALF A MILLION

Redding, Conn., Oct. 27.—The inventory of the estate of the late Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) filed in probate court here shows the valuation as made by the appraisers, Alfred Bigelow Paine, Mr. Clemens' literary secretary, and Harry Lounsbury, superintendent of the estate, to be $611,126.

Mr. Clemens' home, Stormfield, and the 230 acres surrounding it are valued at $70,000. The approximate value of his stock holdings is given as $450,000.

Mrs. Ossip Gabriellowitch, Mr. Clemens' daughter and only heir, sailed for Europe Saturday, leaving instructions that Stormfield and the real estate be sold.

WEARING A WEDDING RING

Mary Garden Arrives in New York
From Europe.

New York, Oct. 27.—"Is Mary Garden married?"

That was the question asked by everyone on the dock when the Kaiser Wilhelm II. arrived with such a load of singers and musicians as seldom comes into this port on one single liner. The reason for the question was obvious. Miss Garden was wearing a plain band of gold on the proper finger.

"I am wearing a wedding ring," she said, "but I can't talk about the man now. You must wait until he comes over to carry me away to his mountain fastnesses. Then you must corner him and ask him how it was done."

There were rumors that the lucky man is a Magyar nobleman who is immensely wealthy, but these stories she would not confirm. She was met at the boat by many friends, including her father.

TWELVE MACHINES
IN THE AIR AT ONCEKeen Competition Among Airships at Belmont Park.

New York, Oct. 27.—When dusk began to settle on the aviation field at Belmont Park, L. I., there were twelve aeroplanes in the air, and when night shut down two of them were still lost in the black void above. There was no moon and it was by the almost imperceptible glow of the stars that these two, Hoxsey and Johnstone, were first sighted, winging their way back to earth. Both alighted safely in midfield, within a few moments of each other.

Johnstone's barograph registered 5,763 feet against 6,173 feet for Hoxsey. Five starters were announced in a cross-country race to a captive balloon ten miles east of the course and return, and four started. Latham in a fifty horsepower Antoinette was the first to cross the line.

Auburn followed him, and after Auburn, Drexel and Le Blanc, captain of the French team, both in Bleriot. Le Blanc's airship seemed splendid, as he shot low before the grandstand on an even keel, straight for the mark, but Auburn beat the master, and for that matter the other contenders. Auburn's time was 28 minutes, 8.75 seconds.

The cross-country race had barely begun when eight men went out for distance and two for altitude. That made ten, and two of the cross-country fliers were still to return, making twelve in the air at once.

Brookins, driving the "Baby" Wright racer, made up all the distance he had lost in starting late and soon led the field by two laps.

One and another of the competitors dropped out and the field narrowed down to Parmelee of the Wright team, in his first appearance, Brookins in the Wright racer, and Latham, who had immediately entered the distance on his return from the cross-country race. Brookins dropped out for no apparent reason and left first place safe for Latham, who had no trouble in lapping the standard Wright biplane, and finished one round to the good.

REAL PEARLS IN COCOANUTS.

Composition Similar to Oyster Product Puzzles Experts.

The fact that coconuts sometimes contain pearls—properly so called and quite similar to the pearls of mollusks—has been established. A specimen the size of a pearl was exhibited recently by a Bostonian, who explained that such pearls are worth a good deal of money in the Malay peninsula, where the native rajahs esteem them highly.

These pearls are similar in composition to those of the so called pearl oyster, being found by chemical analysis to consist of calcium carbonate and a small amount of organic matter.

It is altogether a puzzle why the giant seed should produce such concretions, inasmuch as they cannot be due to an attempt, as is the case of the mollusk, to cover up irritating particles.

SHIPPERS' ATTORNEYS OBJECT

Protest Against Demand of Lawyer
for the Railroads That Witness Reveal Names of Railway Officials and Shippers Concerned in Rebating Before 1906—Demand for Information
Not Pressed.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Rebating as practiced by the carriers and shippers prior to 1906 and the passage of the Hepburn act was the principal theme of discussion at the afternoon session of the Western freight rate hearing before the interstate commerce commission.

At that time the cross-examination, which in the morning had been concerned with the burden of the work borne by farmer boys in Iowa, veered around to a specific demand for the names of railway officials and shippers concerned in rebating before 1906, of which the witness, W. P. Trickett of Minneapolis, said he had personal knowledge.

Attorneys for the shippers protested that the desired information was not material, that the committee in a number of cases was informed of the practice of rebating, but the counsel for the railroads stuck to his question. The tense situation was relieved when the witness dodged the issue by declining to give the names.

"I will not give in public the names of the officials of the Chicago Great Western road who gave the rebate now of the shippers who received it," said Mr. Trickett. "I cannot—two of them have passed on. I can give you contracts showing rebates, or I can comply with the suggestion that I give you the information in writing, but I must decline to give them from the stand."

Demand Not Pressed.

The demand was pressed no further by Attorney J. B. Payne, general counsel for the Chicago Great Western road, after the positive refusal to testify to the specific transaction.

The question of rebates came up in connection with the preceding witness, H. G. Wilson, transportation commissioner of the Kansas City Commercial club.

In enumerating different advances in the rates since 1901 Mr. Wilson testified that in 1906, after the passage of the Hepburn act, freight rates were advanced and he estimated that prior to then rebates on many articles transported from the Atlantic seaboard to the Missouri river points amounted to 40 per cent of the regular tariffs. Mr. Wilson testified that he had no personal knowledge of the giving of rebates and could, therefore, give no specific evidence.

Mr. Trickett, who is executive manager of the Minneapolis Traffic association, agreed with Mr. Wilson on the 40 per cent rebate estimate and declared that he had personal knowledge of the giving of rebates in some instances, having acted for the carrier; in others for the shipper of the commodities and in others for both carrier and shipper.

In addition to bringing up the subject of rebates Mr. Wilson introduced tabulations showing increase in the minimum weight of carload lots, which he contended operated to the disadvantage of some shippers; of changes in classification of commodities and of advances in commodity freight rates.

Mr. Trickett, after agreeing with the preceding witness' estimate on percentage of rebates, also introduced statistics showing advances in freight rates to and from Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Time for an analysis of the tabulations of alleged advances was allowed the railroad attorneys.

No Witness to Tragedy on Farm.

Pipestone, Minn., Oct. 27.—When Peter Johnson, a farmer, went over to the adjoining farm where his son, James Johnson, lived alone, to see why his son had not called at his home, he was horrified to find the young man lying dead with his head and shoulders crushed beneath a heavy hayrack. It is believed that Johnson was attempting to lift the hayrack from the wagon trucks and that it fell, striking him and breaking his neck.

Little Girl Murdered.

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—With clothing tied around her neck the body of a little girl was found in a vacant lot behind the National hotel. There was blood on the window sill of a room in the hotel, and the boarder who occupied that room for months is missing. The identity of the child has not yet been established, neither has the missing boarder been located.

WOMAN SUES FOR DAMAGES

Banker Defendant in Breach of Promise Case.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 27.—James S. Sanborn, a banker of Pukwana, S. D., has been made defendant in a breach of promise suit which has been instituted in the United States court in this city by Miss Ella R. Bay of Menominee, Mich.

The plaintiff asks that she be awarded damages of $75,000. She alleges that after she had been courted four years by the defendant, during which time they were engaged to be married, he without any cause violated his pledge to marry her and now has become engaged to another woman.

The plaintiff was manager of a lumber company at Menominee and was receiving a salary of $5,000 a year—one of the largest salaries paid to a woman in the United States. After becoming engaged to the defendant she resigned her position, and thus figures that she is out $20,000, or $5,000 a year during the four years the alleged marriage engagement existed.

In addition she alleges that she expended more than $2,000 of her own money in the defendant's business. The various amounts are included in the total damages which she seeks to recover.

It is expected the case will be tried at the term of United States court now in session in this city, with Judge John E. Carland presiding. The plaintiff will be represented by Joe Kirby of Sioux Falls, while the defendant will be represented by former Senator A. B. Kittredge.

DRAMATIC SCENE
IN A COURTROOMBrothers Meet When One Appears to Plead Guilty.

Milwaukee, Oct. 27.—Men wept in the courtroom of Federal Judge J. V. Quarles when Municipal Judge August C. Backus, S. H. Elrod, formerly governor of South Dakota, and others endeavored to save from prison Otto Mattes, twenty-five years of age, arrested some time ago on a charge of extracting money from letters while he was a rural mail carrier at Kewaskum. Judge Quarles suspended the sentence.

The case was fraught with remarkable features, one of which was the meeting of two brothers who never had looked upon each other before.

Thirty-two years ago Christ Mattes left his home at Kewaskum, going to South Dakota. He is now an engineer on the Chicago and Northwestern railway. Seven years after his departure Otto, the youth under arrest, was born. When Christ Mattes heard of the arrest of his brother he determined to be at the trial to make whatever effort he could to save him from prison. The pair met in the courtroom.

Mattes was indicted on Monday by the federal grand jury. When arraigned before Judge Quarles he pleaded guilty.

It was then that former Governor Elrod spoke in his behalf. Swayed by an emotion he could not conceal Mr. Elrod said that he long had been a resident of Kewaskum, that he had known the young man well and that he knew him to be a youth of exemplary character. He pleaded with Judge Quarles to be as lenient as the circumstances would permit, stating that he had made the journey from Aberdeen, S. D., that he might do what was within his power to save Mattes from prison.

COCKS COMPETE IN CROWS.

In Belgium cockcrowling competitions are very popular among the working classes. The cocks are ranged in cases, and markers note the number of crows. The chancier that has sounded his shrill claxon the most times in an hour carries off the prize. In a competition recently held at Poulseur a cock gave voice 134 times.

Milwaukee, Oct. 27.—Pledging himself to marry if he is elected governor, Francis E. McGovern, Republican candidate, has removed the probability of Wisconsin having a bachelor executive. Bail for Cameron Dam Defend-

MRS. DEITZ STAYS IN JAIL

Bond Furnished for Her Release, but She Declines to Leave Her Husband.
Action of the Devoted Wife Created
No Little Surprise Among the People of Hayward, Wis.

Hayward, Wis., Oct. 27.—John F. Deitz can once more, for a short time at least, ramble through the meadows and woodland at Cameron dam unmolested by the officers of the law, provided he can secure an acceptable bail bond in the sum of $40,000. Judge James Wickham, contrary to the expectations of many, but with the full consent of J. C. Davis, district attorney, and L. M. Sturdevant, associate counsel, decided that the famous defender of Cameron dam was entitled to his liberty, pending his trial for the murder of Oscar Harp, if he could secure bondsmen.

The bail of Leslie Deitz was fixed at $40,000, and Attorney W. C. Zabel says that a suitable bond in that sum will be immediately forthcoming from his friends in Milwaukee.

Refuses to Be Set Free.

The bond of Mrs. Deitz was fixed at $4,000, and was immediately furnished by W. W. Deitz and Henry Deitz, brothers of John F. Deitz. Mrs. Deitz, however, created no little surprise by refusing to accept her liberty, preferring to remain in jail with her husband until he, too, secured his temporary release.

Attorney Zabel, when asked regarding the prospects of securing bondsmen for John F. Deitz, said: "I don't know just what we can do, but I believe that the necessary signatures or the cash can be secured in a few days, a week or ten days at the least."

When questioned at the jail regarding his future prospects in case he secured his release, John Deitz said: "I don't know what I will do. I am afraid that if I should return to Cameron dam they (meaning the logging company) would get me. I can't say just now what I will do. I can tell better after I am released and have consulted with my friends."

FORAKER QUITS THE STUMP

Had Been Requested to Modify His Speeches.

Cleveland, Oct. 27.—Declining to accede to an alleged request of the Republican state executive committee to "modify" his speeches former Senator Joseph Benson Foraker has withdrawn from participation in the Ohio state campaign and has cancelled all his speaking engagements.

The senator, in an address last week, made plain his opposition to the "new nationalism" described by Theodore Roosevelt, describing it as "treason." This brought on heated replies from the stump and the controversy had taken first place in the state campaign so far as newspaper attention was concerned.

In a telephone message to Chairman Charles Craig of the Erie county central committee Mr. Foraker announced that the state committee had requested him to modify his speeches, that he would make them as he chose or not at all and that therefore he would cancel all his speaking dates.

St. Paul, Oct. 27.—Chris Stocker, James Hackett and William Rose, employed by the United States engineering department in blasting the old piers from the Mississippi river at the foot of Broadway, miraculously escaped death when three heavy charges of blasting dynamite exploded close to the scow in which they were working, and hurled the three men several feet into the cold waters of the river.

The scow was partially wrecked, but did not sink. The three men, deafened by the explosion and partially stunned, managed to cling to the disabled scow until it floated into shallow water, when they waded ashore, none the worse for the experience.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

There are six constitutional amendments to be submitted to the voters at the November election. All are well enough and desirable, but none are of sufficient importance to cause any great interest in their adoptions, and as a majority of all votes cast is necessary to carry them, it is probable all will fail.

The first amendment proposes to increase the amount the state can pay to aid in the construction of a road or bridge from one-third to one-half the cost.

The second amendment proposes to repeal that section of the constitution which requires the state treasurer to publish a detailed statement of the receipts and disbursements of the state treasury.

The third amendment permits the state to become the trustee for the payment of damage to crops by hail or wind, the fund to be raised by a special tax on the lands of those who voluntarily list them for taxation for this purpose.

The fourth amendment permits any session of the legislature to redistrict the state for congressional or legislative reapportionment.

The fifth amendment authorizes a plan for reforestation of the state according to forestry principles and to levy a tax of 1-15 of a mill annually to buy land for this purpose, not exceeding $3.00 an acre.

The sixth amendment authorizes the legislature to enact laws to exempt from taxation lands of private parties to be used for reforestation. These are all desirable things and should receive the support of the voters.

Director A. R. Blakey, of the state anti-tuberculosis exhibit, went to Aitkin yesterday afternoon. He expressed himself as well pleased with the enthusiasm for better conditions aroused in Brainerd and wished to thank the local workers for their efforts.

The clerk of the Water and Light Board, William Nelson, when pressed for news this morning, replied "Well, the Dispatch sub-station No. (Continued on page four)

THE way to be sure of getting all that your clothes-money pays for—and should insure—is to buy clothes of known quality.

That's your big advantage here—whatever your selection may be, you have the maker's name to rely on—and our name back of that.

And keeping up our name is a mighty important particular here because we've made that name mean the best values—correct styles—satisfaction or money-back.

You want to see the brandnew models we are showing for fall and winter. They bear the well-known name of

The House of Kuppenheimer

And there's no name in the clothing manufacture that stands higher—means more.

These new styles show the highest perfection of the maker's methods—the newest crinkles in advance style—and solid worth of fabrics that means your satisfaction from first to last.

We wouldn't wait if we were you. Choose while the stock is complete.

DEGREE OF HONOR DIST. CONVENTION

Met This Afternoon at 2 O'clock and at 8 in the Evening at Elks Hall

CHIEF OF HONOR PRESENT

Sixty Delegates Expected—Business
Session in Afternoon, Social Tonight

The district convention of the Degree of Honor held its afternoon session at two o'clock this afternoon at Elks hall. The district embraces 12 counties and many delegates are present from Staples and the vicinity of Brainerd. The total roster includes 60 delegates. Baudette and Spooner were unable to send delegates.

At the afternoon session Mrs. P.
M. Johnson delivered the address of welcome and the Grand Chief of Honor, Mrs. Duffy, of Shakopee, gave the response. Papers were read on matters pertaining to the order and its management.

The committee on arrangements is composed of Mrs. William Barron, Mrs. P. M. Johnson, Mrs. H. Thevot,
and Mrs. H. McGinn. The committee which meets the trains and escorts
the visitors is composed of Mrs. H.
McGinn, Mrs. Otto Reinhart, Mrs.
P. M. Johnson and Mrs. C. P. Mc-Lean.

The program in the evening will commence at eight o'clock and will embrace a question box or round table discussion and a musical program. There will be no election of officers. The convention meets at places designated by Grand Chief of Honor, Mrs. Duffy. Last year the convention was held at Staples.

BURYING THE HATCHET

A Splendid Suggestion Which is For the Good of Our Fair
City

Burying the hatchet and smoking
the pipe of peace are expressions or performances with a similar purpose,
but both events can not be traced back to the days when the red man roamed fearlessly over our present farms. The red man taught us the meaning of smoking the pipe of peace, a performance during which a pipe is actually smoked, signifying the cessation of hostility between tribes, usually after the conquest of the one by the other. The white man has adopted the principle underlying this ceremony and pretends to bury the hatchet, symbolically of course, and therewith calls off past feuds or disagreements and makes compromises, the act not necessarily being significant of conquest over any one of the different parties concerned.

It is very evident that there is in Brainerd a hatchet which ought to be buried and with it all past feuds or disagreements should be forgotten. A new spirit should prevail, one that has the future progress of the city at heart. This hatchet originated, not alone through past local legislation, but is also one of personal moment in the form of lack of civic pride. If this spirit and this legislation had not been poor in the past, Brainerd would today be able to boast of many civic improvements which are now altogether lacking.

Our town is in a sorrowful need of many substantial features that would otherwise indicate and be significant of a real wide awake community. Simply because these matters were neglected ten or fifteen years ago, an altogether too common utterance, is no reason why they should not be remedied now.

Look your city over and see where congested or ill arranged or poorly managed conditions exist and lend your efforts to remedy these at once.
Don't lean back in your chairs and wait for someone else to "start something" but "start something" yourself. It is not too late now even if you have lived here a long time. If you have any old time feuds or grievances, bury the hatchet and get out and work for a cleaner, a better and a greater Brainerd.

Foot Ball Saturday

There is considerable interest being shown in the the foot ball game which will be played here next Saturday between the high school team and the heavy aggregation from the St. Cloud Normal school.

Down at St. Cloud the locals held the teachers to the low score of 3 to 0. Neither side was able to score a touch down and it was anybody's game right up to the close.

The Normals play good hard clean foot ball and understand the new rules very thoroughly. The locals intend to score on the Teachers and to come out of the game with the happy end of the game.

The management intends to keep people off the grounds and to do all in its power to insure to the spectators a clean-cut, highly interesting game of foot ball. It wants the citizens to be back of good sportsmanship, to back the high school with enthusiasm but at the same time to insure to the visitors as square a deal
as they would get on their own grounds.

Lewis soon landed his four ton load

His flax was sold at $2.48 and the business letter to M. T. Dunn, of the Citizens State bank, Mr. Albert mentioned the transaction and asked him to give the news to The Dispatch.

JAMES GRAY IN CITY

Democratic Candidate for Governor Stops Off a Few Hours in Brainerd

James Gray, the democratic candidate for governor, came to Brainerd last night on the midnight train and left early this morning for Duluth.
Mr. Gray appears to be standing his strenuous campaign in good shape.

He was anxious to see Col. C. D.
Johnson, but was unable to locate him.

So far Brainerd does not appear to be on either the Eberhart or Gray itineraries. Mr. Gray, however, stated that he would endeavor to speak in this city next week. Should
Mr. Gray commence his oratorical bombardment, it may be definitely stated that R. R. Wise will have Gov.
Eberhart here to throw a few shells into the enemy's camp and reduce
Mr. Gray's arguments to shreds.

LAKESIDE HOTEL ON FIRE

Seafeld's Banquet—Council Buys a Lot—Other News of a Social Nature

Deerwood, Minn., Oct. 26.—Eric
Anderson and Miss Inga Johnson were married this evening at the residence of the bridegroom, Rev. C.
Hougstad, of Brainerd, pastor of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church, performing the ceremony in the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives of the couple. The groom is a diamond setter of the Cole and McDonald Co., and is a young man well liked by his associates. The bride enjoys a large circle of acquaintances. The bridesmaids were the Misses Lovise Fogelson and Inga Aune. The best men were Messrs.
John Aune and Ludwig Fogelson. A sumptuous wedding supper was served to the guests. The happy couple left on a wedding trip to Minneapolis.
They will reside in Deerwood, the groom having purchased and furnished a home.

On Sunday evening occurred the wedding of Marion Rudolph and Miss Ada Southworth, at the Methodist church, the Rev. Sharpless officiating, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride wore an imported white embroidered gown from Switzerland and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. She was attended by Miss Nellie Rudolph,
a sister of the groom and Miss Josephine Hilyar, attired in cream colored voile dresses. The best men were Douglas Archibald and John Olson.
The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens, palms and potted plants. A wedding supper was served at the home of the groom's parents. The groom is a carpenter employed at Crosby and the bride has many friends in Deerwood. They will reside in Crosby.

The Lakeside hotel caught fire at three o'clock last Sunday morning.
The former lessees, Messrs. Collins and Egan, were moving from the building, and there was no one at the house at the time. Part of the front porch burned and quite a lot of bedding. The fire department boys were returning home from the dance at Hilyar's hall and when the alarm was given were immediately on the scene and extinguished the incipient blaze. The place has been repaired and the owner, Victor Wickstrom,
will now manage the hotel.

William Seafeld, the superintendent of the Helmer Exploration Co.,
and his friend Gribble gave a banquet to a party of invited guests at the Guelker cafe last Sunday evening.
Covers were laid for fourteen. A six course dinner was served and enjoyed by the diners. Julius Hage acted as toastmaster and in his in-troduitory remarks spoke on the subject of fast driving of automobiles.
Julius maintained, it is said, that no
auto on earth can go over 15 miles an hour in Deerwood. Hugo Barthelme spoke on "How to Pass in Your Checks." He orated 15 minutes until checked up by Cashier Hage. Erwin Gaylord made a few remarks on "Drilling on the old Me-sabe and the New Cuyuna." N. P.
Emil Carlson's remarks on "How to Choose a Wife" were listened to with wrapt attention. It is said N. P.
is about to profit on his own observations. Charles Oberg's topic was "Live Wires." Gust Oberg dwelt on the subject of "How to Entertain a Brainerd Girl." John Oberg spoke on "How to be Happy? Get married." Wilson Bradley's theme was
"How to be Monarch of all You Survey." William Seafeld's talk was on "How to Find a Diamond Drill
When You Loose it 1,000 Feet Below
the Surface." Carl Carlson handled this theme in a masterly manner, which question often confronts a young man: "What Shall a Man do, Change Boarding Houses, Get Married or Get Hanged?" "Fred Crone's topic was "How to Sell Groceries and Still be Happy." Harry Reinhoel spoke on "How to Play a Solo on a Bass Drum." Mr. Lawhead's topic was "How to Drill Through Tacon-ite." And the traveling man, Grib-ble, gave the concluding address,
"Never Lose Your Grip." The affair was a huge success and will be repeated just as soon as finances permit.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever;
nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for

STOMACH PUT IN ORDER

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness, Heart-
burn or Dyspepsia Five Minutes
After Taking Diapiesin

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave, sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspepsia trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomach or indigestion in five minutes. Diapiesin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

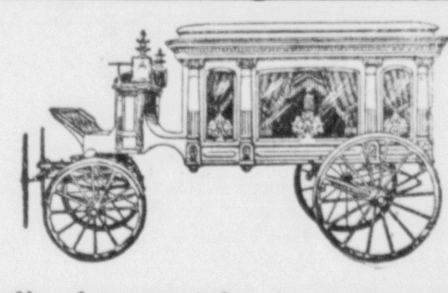

This city will have many diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.

DECADENCE OF TENANT FARMING

Government Experts Make Investigation of Rural Conditions in Sweden. Norwegian-American Steamship Company to Begin Business Shortly. Copenhagen Alarmed Over Russian Cholera Situation.

 SWEDEN. *****

A committee of experts appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of the decadence of tenant farming in Sweden has come to the conclusion, after making careful investigation, that special instruction in farming on a small scale ought to be given to those who are interested in husbandry. It is a remarkable fact that the young men and women in Sweden are beginning to take little or no interest in farming and are all the time turning their eyes to the city to enter other avocations. Farm life to most of them has become a great drudgery and they see such small returns in it, especially the way that it has been conducted and is conducted, that it is a difficult thing to make them see it in any other light. It is just this element that is all the time turning its eyes on America and Canada, which countries have been well advertised to them in the Swedish-American newspapers and through their relatives. When relatives come home to visit, it does not matter from what part of the United States that they come, they at once tell the folks at home what splendid opportunities young people have in America and it does not take very much coaxing to have them make up their minds to leave the mother country. The government is really at a loss as to what to do to make people stay on the farms of Sweden. It is not so bad in the southern part of the country, for there they have better farming methods and better soil, but in the northern sections of the country it is vastly different. There, a renter of a farm has only a small show to make a living, for the rentals are too high and the soil yields but comparatively little. In the timber country the lumber companies have by far the best of the situation, for they have bought up the pine forests long ago and, according to a law in Sweden, a man who has sold the timber on his land is not allowed to pasture his cattle there. So the conditions are not at all favorable and that is perhaps the best reason why so many Swedish people seek homes in America and Canada.

Owing to the prevalence of cholera in Russia the Swedish importing organizations have concluded not to import any more fruit from Russia. This has been an exceedingly poor fruit year in Sweden and therefore large quantities of fruit have had to be imported from Russia. The importers have, however, come to the conclusion that they will cut short all fruit imports because of the rapid spread of cholera in all parts of Russia. Professor Alfred Peterson, a medical authority in Stockholm, declared that there can really be no danger that the disease can be carried in fruit, but there has been such a protest among the people in general in Stockholm, because of the fact that importers have taken their fruit from Russia, that it has been decided best to cut it off altogether.

Bishop Personne, the new bishop of Linköping diocese, was installed in his new position during the latter part of last month. The installation services were held in the Upsala cathedral and were very impressive. The installation address was delivered by Archbishop Ekman. Among those present were the minister of foreign affairs, Count Taube, and Governor Hammarskjöld, together with a number of high functionaries from Stockholm and Upsala. The professors and students of the Upsala university attended in a body.

He and his companions are well equipped for the journey and some interesting geological data will undoubtedly be forthcoming when he has finished his trip.

Herr Martin Rosendahl, secretary for the King Oscar II. traveling library, returned a few days ago to Stockholm after a trip through Canada and the United States. He will write a series of articles on his trip in the States for one of the daily newspapers and has also agreed to write a sketch of Swedish-American farm life for one of the magazines.

 NORWAY. *****

The organization of the Norwegian-American Line Steamship company was a move in the right direction and, judging from the present outlook, the company will be doing a great business from the very start. The only American director is Consul T. H. Hobe of St. Paul, who is at present engaged in selling stock to a number of wealthy Norwegians in the Northwest. The company will soon have three large passenger steamers in commission, besides three freight steamers. Owing to the fact that there is a steady emigration from Norway to America this line will certainly be patronized. During the past five years about 20,000 Norwegians emigrated annually to the United States and there is no sign that emigration to that country is abating.

Twenty-five horses were recently imported from Iceland to Kristiansand and sold there at public auction. They are small, but exceedingly tough. The object of this move was to give holders of small farms a chance to get suitable horses cheap. If the result is satisfactory more horses will be imported from the same country. Once the Iceland horses are introduced they will prove a valuable asset to the farming districts.

Professor Boddling, the present leader of the Norwegian mission in Santalistan, India, has returned to that country after a long sojourn in Europe, where he has appeared as a lecturer in many of the leading cities. A farewell reception was given him in Christiania, which was attended by a very large number of those who are interested in his work. There are at present 16,000 Christians in Santalistan.

There is much poverty among the working people in the Norwegian capital at present. A large number of families have been compelled to seek aid from the charity organizations and they are certainly doing a great and good work. When the winter arrives in earnest these organizations will undoubtedly be taxed to the utmost.

They are thoroughly scared in Copenhagen at the ravages of cholera in Russia and every person that comes from there is detained at all ports in Denmark for at least five days for observation and disinfection of baggage before they are allowed to land and in many instances they are not allowed to land at all. The coast quarantine, especially at the harbor of Copenhagen, is known to be adequately able to cope with any possible dangers. The guard at the Copenhagen port of entry is being doubled and every quarantined officer in the service has received special instructions for the examination of vessels from ports suspected of infection or of carrying passengers from suspected districts. There has as yet been only two cases of cholera in Copenhagen, and that was about two months ago, but the guards at the port of entry are not taking any chances. There would be very little chance for any Russians to land in Denmark at present and escape the quarantine authorities.

Burmeister & Wain, shipbuilders, have decided to use the Diesel motors in their ships and have already given the motor a trial in one of their big liners and find that it works to perfection. The invention is a very ingenious one and will save thousands of tons of coal, besides providing room for several hundred tons of baggage. If these motors are once generally introduced they will revolutionize steamship traffic and none of the great steamship companies operating the large ocean greyhounds can afford to be without them.

Says the Politiken (Copenhagen): In each of the Scandinavian countries an enlargement of the suffrage has taken place during the past three years. It is estimated that about 300,000 of the 550,000 Norwegian women above the age of twenty-five have the right to vote in national elections. The elections of October and November, 1909, was the first general election in which women took part and it is estimated that from 40 to 50 per cent of the qualified female voters cast their ballots at that election.

It is reported that a Danish squadron has for some time been maneuvering at night in connection with the Copenhagen fort. The submarine Dyrkøkken has taken part in the movement and has thus far given excellent service, proving that it would be of immense value in time of war. The government is so well pleased with the submarine boat that it will order at least three more of the same type to be built during the coming year.

Enough to Kill It.

The Greek room is usually not a place for humor, nor is the professor of Greek at the College of the City of New York a very humorous person. Nevertheless the following joke was sprung on him. The class had just returned from the chemistry room, where they had bravely listened to discourse on the elements. The Greek lesson was commenced with a history of I and her endless wanderings. Finally Professor Tisdall asked, "What did I do die?" A student who had been awakened by the question replied, "Iodide of potassium."

CANAL TO SPLIT SCOTLAND APART

Short Cut For Warships Into North Sea.

COST WILL BE $120,000,000.

Proposed Huge Commercial Waterway to Be 51 Miles Long, 149 Feet Wide and 36 Feet Deep, and Construction Will Be Assisted by British Government.

The picturesque waters of Loch Lomond and Loch Long, so greatly admired by tourists in Scotland, are to be invaded by ocean going steamships and great war vessels, for the business men of Scotland have decided that it will be more to the interests of their country to have a deep ship canal connect the Firth of Clyde on the east with the Firth of Forth on the west than to allow the tourists to have full sway in the delightful country just south of the Grampian mountains.

The cost of this canal is estimated at $120,000,000 if it is built to conform to the requirements of the British government for its use by ships of war. It will be 51 miles long, at least 148 feet wide and have a minimum depth of 36 feet, with locks at least 900 feet long. Inasmuch as the British admiralty has promised to assist financially if its requirements are met, it is quite probable that the Clyde-Forth canal will be 149 feet wide and 36 feet deep.

Short Cut For Warships. This canal will enable warships to pass from the Clyde to the Forth in about five and one-half hours and be of great aid in the quick concentration of warships in the North sea, eliminating the long trip around Scotland or England. The eastern end of the canal will be covered by the new naval base at Rosyth in addition to any fortifications that may be constructed for the special protection of the waterway.

The Clyde canal will cut Scotland in two, and while it will be utilized by the navy a more peaceful method of warfare is the prime cause for undertaking the project. Commercial interests seem to demand it, and that being the case it is not strange that commercial considerations are back of the undertaking. A canal built exclusively for war purposes would be a burden upon the people; a canal built for commercial uses would be a paying proposition. That is why it is so much easier to build a commercial canal.

The Clyde canal has been under discussion since 1880, at which times the Messrs. Stevenson, the noted Edinburgh engineers, were asked to report on the feasibility of enlarging the existing large canal from Yoker on the Clyde to Grangemouth on the Forth to accommodate ocean going vessels. The Stevensons advised against that project, but in favor of connecting the Clyde and the Forth by a deep canal by a different route.

Annual Revenue $4,000,000.

The question of expense deferred action for some time, but recently it was decided that the traffic through the canal would be large enough to warrant the expense. The engineers estimate that the canal should yield a revenue of about $4,000,000 a year and a net revenue of about $3,700,000, or about 3 per cent on the estimated cost of $120,000,000. To this would be added the contribution from the admiralty for use of the canal for ships of war.

So far as the engineering features of the project are concerned it does not offer much difficulty. The canal will start from the Firth of Forth above Grangemouth and run down the valley of the Forth past Ben Lomond, through the Endrick valley into Loch Lomond. It will leave that lake at Tarbet and cross the narrow neck of land to Arrochar, whence it will pass by Loch Long into the Clyde. Twenty-one miles will be through the open waters of Lochs Lomond and Long and thirty-one miles will be cut through the land.

BUNKO PROVES A BONANZA.

Plaintiff in Ranch Suit Finds Gold and Drops Case.

Within a few days after J. W. Aylor of Webb City, Mo., had filed a suit for $87,000 against a man who had sold him a 7,000 acre farm in Texas, alleging he had been bunkoed, he received word that lightning had struck a ledge on the property and exposed gold ore of such purity that he would probably be made independently wealthy. Aylor has withdrawn his suit.

Old Time Gambling.

The gambling of today is a mild affair compared with the extant records of English society. We shall never again see the days when General Scott won a fortune of £200,000 at whist, chiefly by dint of keeping sober. And high play, it must never be forgotten, is a relative term. When Lord Stavordale gained £11,000 by a single coup at hazard his only comment was that if he had been playing "deep" he might have won millions. When the dimensions of modern wealth are taken into account the wildest excesses ever witnessed at the card table would have a timid and parsimonious aspect to the bucks of the regency.—London Saturday Review.

Her Birthmark.

"I hear," said the count, "that you are going to marry an American girl who has a birthmark." "Yes," replied the marquise, "the report is true." "I hope she is not badly disfigured." "Not a bit, my dear fellow. For your enlightenment I will make a drawing of her birthmark. It is like this—$"—Chicago Record-Herald.
